

Saint Paul's Lector Schedule

Here is the lector schedule for January and February. If your name is listed first, you will have the first reading; the second name does the second reading. You can find the designated readings at lectionarypage.net.

Here is my contact information.

Some Reminders:

If you cannot fulfill your assignment, please ask another lector to fill in for you and notify the church office so the correct name goes in the Sunday bulletin.

When you are at the lectern, adjust the microphone to capture your voice. Even then, speak a little louder than normal speech. The hearing impaired will appreciate it.

When you have finished the reading, say, “the word of the Lord.” Wait at the lectern for the response, “thanks be to God.”

It is up to you whether or not you read the blurb about the lesson found in the program. Sometimes it is illuminating; other times it is simply a rehash of the reading.

There are no rules about approaching the altar on your way to the lectern. Some people choose to “reverence” (bow) – others do not.
